SAMPLE LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear [NAME OF EDITOR]:

National Cancer Survivors Day[®] is Sunday, June 2, 2019. On this day, [CITY/ TOWN] will honor those in our community who are living with and beyond cancer. We will join hundreds of communities worldwide in celebrating life as part of the 32nd annual NCSD celebration. Thousands of cancer survivors, caregivers, family members, friends, and healthcare professionals will gather across the globe to honor cancer survivors and to show the world that life after a cancer diagnosis can be fruitful, rewarding, and even inspiring.

National Cancer Survivors Day[®] celebrations will be held throughout the United States, Canada, and other participating countries, including the [EVENT] organized by [ORGANIZATION] here in [CITY/TOWN]. We want to invite everyone to our community's celebration.

A survivor is anyone living with a history of cancer – from the moment of diagnosis through the remainder of life, according to the National Cancer Survivors Day[®] Foundation. In the United States alone, there are more than 15.5 million people living with a history of cancer.

Major advances in cancer prevention, early detection, and treatment have resulted in longer survival. However, a cancer diagnosis can leave a host of problems in its wake. Physical, financial, and emotional hardships often persist for years after diagnosis and treatment. Survivors are confronted with limited access to cancer specialists and promising new treatments, inadequate or no health insurance, financial hardships, difficulty finding employment, psychosocial struggles, and a lack of understanding from family and friends. Despite these difficulties, cancer survivors can live active, productive, inspiring lives.

National Cancer Survivors Day[®] is a time to bring attention to these ongoing challenges faced by cancer survivors. To improve cancer survivors' quality of life, more resources, research, and survivor-friendly legislation are needed. The National Cancer Survivors[®] Day Foundation, along with its supporter Coping[®] with Cancer magazine, is encouraging a greater commitment to resolving the issues of cancer survivorship.

As the organizers of this local event, we encourage everyone to attend the celebration to show their support for our community's cancer survivors, their families, friends, and healthcare providers. For more information, call [LOCAL NUMBER], or visit [WEBSITE].

Sincerely,
