[ORGANIZATION] Hosts National Cancer Survivors Day® Celebration

WHO: Everyone is invited to join our community's cancer survivors and their family members, friends, oncology professionals, and volunteer workers in celebrating National Cancer Survivors Day®. According to the National Cancer Survivors Day Foundation, a "survivor" is anyone living with a history of cancer – from the moment of diagnosis through the remainder of life.

WHAT: This local NCSA event is part of an annual, worldwide Celebration of Life held in hundreds of communities throughout the United States, Canada, and other participating countries on the first Sunday in June. Participants unite in a symbolic commemorative celebration to honor the millions of people who are living with and beyond cancer.
